Sacred space

Salisbury Cathedral

in the UK is a beautiful, historic building and a world-class heritage attraction. As the Cathedral is host to many different events, chairs often need to be moved, removed, and stacked. The design of the furniture, however, must respect the dignified environment of the cathedral. The 40/4 chair was chosen for its proven durability and simple design.

Churches and places of worship are intended for religious ceremonies and human contemplation. Today, though, they also often work as venues for concerts, seminars and other events. This calls for design that pays tribute to the timeless surroundings as well as offers the highest degree of flexibility. We like to believe that we deliver both – unequivocally.

Flexibility

Flexible furniture solutions provide you optimal multi-usage of the holy space.

Intelligent, purposeful, refined design

Don’t be fooled by the simple and elegant design of the 40/4 chair by David Rowland.

The 40/4 chair has a light and airy aesthetic as well as superb seating comfort - the width of the seat is 490 mm / 19.3”. Here we are dealing with a chair that is as strong in construction as it is simple in design.

The frame is made of a solid steel rod and the chair has been tested to both the ANSI/BIFMA X5.1 and the EN 16139:2013 standard for strength and durability.

This chair is meant for severe contract use!

Long-lasting durability

Our hard-wearing furniture solutions have a proven track record stretching back more than 45 years - they simply become companions.

2500 40/4 chairs by David Rowland at St. Paul's Cathedral in the UK have been used and moved each day since 1973 and are still in good condition.

Optimising space

40 chairs on a single dolly take up only 0,47 m^2 / 5.1 ft^2 of floor space.

160 chairs on a quadruple dolly take up less than 2 m^2 / 21.5 ft^2 of floor space.

Moving Design

We believe in the sense of movement at HOWE; the idea that what we do is not only moving the levels of craftsmanship or the confinements within design but also the people who use it every day. This is why all chairs and tables from HOWE offer impeccable functionality. You can fold them. You can stack them. You can roll them any way that you want, optimising the spaces in which we work, think, study and communicate. Just as you can feel comfort in them; the look, the originality, the way form follows function to the very last detail. Time and time again.

We are HOWE and we believe in moving design.
Since 1928.
